Re: Copyright (Amendment) Bill 2004

Dear Sirs:

Reference is made to the request, posted on the IPOS website on July 24, 2004, for feedback on the above-referenced draft legislation.

The Motion Picture Association is a professional trade association representing seven international producers and distributors of audiovisual entertainment in the form of theatrical motion pictures, home videos, television programming, and digital representations of moving images and sounds. MPA member Companies are:

Buena Vista International, Inc.
Columbia TriStar Film Distributors International, Inc.
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios Inc.
Paramount Pictures Corporation
Twentieth Century Fox International Corporation
Universal International Films, Inc.
Warner Bros. Pictures International

MPA's parent organization, the Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA) is a founding member of the International Intellectual Property Alliance (IIPA) and we have taken note of the extensive comments filed with you by them in response to the draft legislation.

Although MPA Member Companies' are not involved in the production and distribution of other categories of copyrighted works or related subject matter beyond those referenced above, MPA nonetheless fully endorses and supports all aspects of the IIPA's submission. We shall further coordinate with IIPA with respect to any questions you may and confirm our interest in further cooperation with your good offices.

Sincerely,
